“The Transworld Group’s appetite & ability to do more for our customers has never been better”.

Mr. Ritesh Ramakrishnan, Joint Managing Director, the third-generation entrepreneur who is building on the legacy of his grandfather and founder Mr. R. Sivaswamy and father and Chairman Mr. Ramesh S. Ramakrishnan. He has been instrumental in leading the strategy, planning, implementation, and business development activities of the Group worldwide based out of its dual hubs in the UAE and India. As we are gearing up for Transworld@50, Mr. Ritesh reiterates that Vessel owning continues to be a key growth area for us to focus on container ships, bulk carriers, and even tankers going ahead. Our focus is on further growth and evolution while reaching that landmark and beyond. We have constantly been evolving as an organization ever since the company was founded in 1977. For him, one thing that has not changed is our connection with the customers.

Mr. Ritesh also spoke about our global expansion plan which has added value to the Transworld Group. The strategic agreement last year with DP World’s Unifeeder was a key step on this path to revitalizing Group’s business. A strategic partnership with e-Shipper, a Canada-based company in the e-commerce and last/first-mile delivery space will help to enhance our e-commerce delivery, in the Middle East to start with, which will eventually come to India. Our focus is on becoming a complete solutions provider for our customers.

On the short-term and long-term plan, Mr. Ritesh mentioned that we have a huge program with Oracle where we have invested a lot to bring our back end, ERP, and financials onto the cloud platform, run completely by Oracle. On the landside in India, we are working on enhancing our ability to provide last mile and middle mile solutions in every part of the country. We are also focusing on bulk carriers. We started out with 3 bulk carriers two years ago and today have a fleet of 8. That is something we want to keep looking at within the Handysize space. Initiatives such as Sagarmala and PM Gati Shakti are making a difference for our Group. As we are approaching Transworld@50 in a few years we are excited and look forward to growing our association with all our customers, partners, and associate, and being the first-choice solutions provider for the trade.

In Conversation with Anand Kenkare, General Manager, Transworld Logistics LLC, Oman, Transworld Group

Mr. Anand Kenkare, General Manager, Transworld Logistics LLC, Transworld Group about his experiences in the Group and overall shipping industry in general. Below are the excerpts from our conversation.

Mr. Anand joined Transworld Group in the year 2001. For him, it's a beautiful 21yrs journey with the group. He fondly recalls when he was interviewed by Mr. Culas sir and post that he got the opportunity to meet Mr. Ramesh Ramakrishnan, a humble and most down-to-earth person for him.

He joined the Muscat office and for a year he was placed in Sohar for developing the business there after which he was back in Muscat thereafter. Mr. Anand started his career in the year 1996 in the liner shipping industry in Kolkata with well-known agency houses and post that he joined Transworld Group in Oman. He firmly remembers his college days when he graduated and while pursuing his MBA, few of his friends who were working in the shipping industry used to share their experiences and which is how he developed an interest in exploring a career in the same.

For Anand, it's been a terrific journey where he has got experience in various aspects of the shipping and logistics Industry. From the operations department to leading the Oman unit has been a wonderful journey and learning experience for him. He is a firm believer that to sell a product it is always advantageous to have an operational understanding as well.

The contemporary logistics industry in Oman has evolved a lot in the past two decades. Competition has become fierce due to the recently added presence of global players in the market combined with carriers also entering our space. Especially post covid, Oman has seen a big change even in the way business is done. In spite of all the competition and the biggies trying to budge in, Anand believes that personal relationships and personalized service to the customers are what help build long-term relations to grow the business in the long run.

Anand joined Transworld when he was 26 years old and got married soon thereafter. His wife Ms. Radha, who is a qualified Architect is also from his hometown Goa and has worked with the Royal Estate at the Ministry of Diwan in Oman. Anand is blessed with two beautiful kids. His daughter Diti, 16 years old, who is a black belt holder in karate, would be appearing for class 12 board exams in March'23. His son Shiv is 11 years old, in class 7 is also a brown belt holder in karate

On the personal front, Anand is spiritually inclined and at the same time an outdoors person who loves nature. He is addicted to running 4-5km every morning 6 days a week and loves going on regular treks and camping with his family.
